

April 26, 2017
Lehman College, New York

The HETS Consortium invites you to participate in the HETS Student Leadership Showcase

On April 26, 2017 at Lehman College.

This event is designed for students at HETS member institutions. The main purpose is to promote the access to free of charge online student services that can support their academic goals. Among these services, students can find information about scholarships, internships, jobs search, practice standardized tests, online tools and tips about careers. We also want to share with students topics about how to use technology to maximize their resources, and success stories of professionals and students. Moreover, we want to know about their interests and needs to collaborate on exploring solutions to create additional support services.

Date: April 26, 2017

Time: 2:00 pm to 4:30 pm

Place: Student Life Building, Room 111 A, Lehman College, NYC
